DEAR IRIS FRIENDS:

The enthusiasm of Iris lovers we have had the pleasure of meeting and sharing interests with, has led to the preparation of this listing.

We offer the Iris listed below, on the basis of what they have done for us and other iris lovers.

The list is not long, but the quality in what we have is some of the best.

You are always welcome to visit with us here at Charjoy.

Sincerely,

Charles and Joyce Army

1955 INTRODUCTIONSLouisea Army — Chance seedling, 1952

Pastel blue to lavender shading to light yellow with age, with orange-yellow dagger crest. The flower is a 5" flat-cupped and ruffled, similar to Lockett's Luck in form, with great substance. Flowers borne at 4 positions, frequently 2 buds at each position. Height 36", mid season to late. 3rd place in blue class at Society for Louisiana Iris Show, 1954; 1st place in blue class at State Show of Federated Garden Clubs of Louisiana, and 2nd Best flower of State Show. Price per rhizome $10.00

Dora Day—Bayou Sunset x blue giganticaerulea seedling from S.L.I. Test Garden, 1952.

A very striking bitone, flaring light purple to lavender. 5-5½" flowers, 4-5 bud positions with 2 buds at all positions and branching. Large yellow signal, tending to be radial. Three to four flowers opening at the same time. Very beautiful and good grower. Height 36" mid season to late.
